The Senior Class of Drexel High School

presents

The 1956 Cavalcade

- Dedication -

During our years at Drexel, it has been our privilege to have known and worked with many marvelous persons. One such person is our congenial commercial studies teacher, who has given so freely of her time and abilities to make us better citizens and Drexel High School a better place. Thus it is with a sincere feeling of appreciation and humble gratitude that we, the Seniors of 1956, dedicate this year's edition of the CAVALCADE to MRS. JEWELL BOUNOUS.

PROPHECY

The crystal ball begins to turn as the Voice of Prophecy speaks. The years race forward -- 1956 - '57 - '60 - '63 - '65 - '66. Time pauses; the prophetic voice reveals the year -- 1966.

The first expedition to plant a colony of earthlings on Mars is about to embark. The world waits with baited breath as the zero hour approaches when the daring group of forty-six volunteers launch out into space on this new adventure. Most of the world have the opinion that the adventurers are nothing short of maniacs and they scoff at the absurd idea of a colony on Mars. Nevertheless, the brave clan, heedless of the jeers of the world, complete last minute preparations and board the space ship.

Ah! The crystal ball becomes clear and we now recognize the adventurers. Ironic as it may seem--the entire group is none other than the Drexel High School Graduation Class of 1956.

Eddie Ross, awarded the Cangressional Medal of Honar for bravery in the Air Corps, will pilot the expedition. His crew consists of first and second ca-pilots, Gene Berry and Gary Cozort respectively; navigator, Ted Reece, Uncle Sam's pride and joy; air hastess, Grace Ross; mechanics, Lee Roy Epley, Jerry Berry, Howard Trumble; and Jimmy Reece to man the radar bridge.

Look! The passengers are now approaching. There's Dr. Wilburn Berry, Jr., PhD., B.S., M.S., S.A.P., and veterinary, followed by his staff: three lavely nurses, Alba Baird, Doris O'Kelly, Regina Crawley; dietician, Rheba Self; and lab technicians, Barbara Goodnight and Marie Cook.

The engineers are next. Atomic Energy Engineer, David Baker; Chemical Engineer, Bobby McNeely; Electrical Engineer, Bobby Moore; and Communications Engineer, Donald McCall. Is that his beloved edition of the 1956 CAVALCADE tucked under his arm? He seems rather attached to that little valume! There's Dr. Jessie Conley, geologist, and Dr. Charles Brawn, batanist and zaologist.

Look at all the celebrities! The world famous movie star, the "It" girl of '66, Miss Mable Bradshaw, poses for photographers with her producer, Mr. Bob Walker. Reporters now gather around Maxine Cooper, Nobel Prize Winner, noted author and editor of the "World News." As cameras flash, J. Edgar's right-hand man, Claude Sitton, joins the group with his charming and efficient secretary, Linda Berry. Fabulous T. V. Producer, Ray Amos, is now arriving with two stars of the Metropolitan Opera, Marlene Baker and Van Ramsey. And now--the world's champion figure skater, Shirley Deal. Next, the most expert big game hunters in the world, Billy Warlick and Rodney Woodie, and also, renawn artist, David Griffin, and designer, Geraldine Deal, who returned from Paris to make this trip. Wayne Bumgarner, Coach of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who has won the pennant for five consecutive years, approaches. It seems he received an anonymous letter with one-way reservations for this trip. You don't suppose that anonymous was spelled Y-A-N-K-E-E-S??? Look! Here comes Irene Bowman, woman athlete, who just swam the English Channel.

Not even on Mars will one be able to escape education because teachers, Helen Campbell, Katheleen Deal, Ann Hoover, and Prafessor Perrell Self, just boarded the ship. Then Horace Powell, barber, and Martha Reece, beautician. Oh, yes! There's Martha Sigmon waving "good-bye." She was the lucky winner of the Sudsy Soap contest. First prize--a trip to Mars! Well, well! Paul Lail, traveling salesman, carrying his suitcase of Fuller brushes. He is the forty-fifth and apparently the last to board the ship.

Everything seems ready for the take off now. But what's this?? The hostess looks puzzled! There were forty-six in that graduating class and only forty-five baarded the space ship! Who is that running toward the ship??? Why it's none other than Paul Dean. Uh-huh. Late as usual!!!

The hostess is now boarding the ship. The heavy door closes. The anticipated zero hour has arrived. Pffffft. There they go. Bon voyage!

The crystal ball is dark once more and the Voice of Prophecy is silent.

To whomever it may concern! The Class Prophet left Yesterday----------for PLUTO!

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of Drexel High School on this day of May thirty-first, nineteen hundred and fifty-six, believing ourselves to be of sound minds and body--do hereby revoke all former wills as null and void, and declare this to be our last will and testament.

To Mr. Hallyburton and the faculty, we bequeath our heartfelt gratitude, respect, and love for their interest and efforts in our behalf and also, for the inspiration we have gained by our friendly contact with them.

To the County School Superintendent and to both county and local boards of education, we will our unexpressible appreciation for the advantages they have provided for us.

To the class of 1957, we leave our reputation as the most conniving class in school.

To the members of the Junior Class, we make the following individual bequeaths:

Ray Amos wills his library books, which are more interesting when read in class, to Johnny Jacumin. Alba Baird wills her cute and friendly ways to Shirley Keller. David Baker wills his dependability and title of "Man's Best Friend" to Steve Lowdermilk. Eddie Ross wills his flirty ways and ability to get along with all of the girls to Bobby Powell. Gene Berry wills his love for the opposite sex to Jerry Powell. Martha Sigmon wills her chair in the office to Jane Oxford. Doris O'Kelly wills her driving disability to Daisy Ross. Van Ramsey wills his enthusiasm for music and his love for the D. H. S. band to Carolyn Lowman. Bobby McNeely wills his ability and experience in bluffing the teachers into thinking he is a smart student to Emily Edwards. Horace Powell wills his jokes and his famous phrase, "I don't believe it!!" to Jimmy Settlemyre. Bobby Moore wills his favorite spot at the Community Center--the ping-pong tables, to Bobby Shull. Ted Reece wills his good luck with Uncle Sam to Howard Secrest. Howard Trumble wills his English book to Richard Arrowood. Marie Spake Cook wills her theory that married life and school will work to Betty Lou Carswell. Grace Ross wills her piano bench to Myrna Oxford. Perrell Self wills his basketball points and uniform to Jackie Powell. Jimmy Reece wills his love for baseball to Henry Rhoney. Martha Reece wills her giggles and wit to Candace Berry. Donald McCall wills his convertible to anyone who owns an overcoat and an umbrella. Kathleen Deal wills her French and Shorthand books to Carelene Clark. Paul Dean wills his "promptness" to Betty Powell. Marlene Baker wills her "know how" for catching a man to Wilma Lane. Jerry Berry wills his loud mufflers to a loud mouth, Jackie Lockee. Wilburn Berry wills his popularity and athletic abilities to anybody who can make the grade. Charles Brown wills his baseball ability to Robert Helms, who says that he needs it. Helen Campbell wills her pretty black hair to Mary Ellen Baker. Regina Crawley wills her quiet ways to Jean Barber and Sue Yarbrough. Geraldine Deal wills her love for eating in study hall to Lucilie Crowe. Jessie Conley wills his ping-pong paddle to Jimmy Walker. Gary Cozart wills his "cozy" "real george" Olds to Fred Lail and LeRoy Bradshaw. Ann Hoover wills her ability to always be in trouble to Marjorie Grigg. Lee Roy Epley wills his ways of working hard to get out of school work to Harold Prewitt. Barbara Goodnight wills her "Royal Crown" to any girl thirsty for popularity. Paul Lail wills his title of "Teacher's Pester" to Wayne Reece. Wayne Bumgarner wills his "Chevey" to Ronnie Childres. Linda Berry wills her love for one man and one alone to Marie Watts. Billy Warlick wills his ability to be cute and witty to Rex Williams. Rodney Woodie wills his speedy ways in football, plus the T.D.'s to Ronald Singleton. Bobby Walker wills his superior performances in all sports to Harold Ledford. Shirley Deal wills her skating ability to Harold Bailey. Irene Bowman wills her enthusiasm and ability in basketball to Charlotte Reece. Claude Sitton wills his knowledge of chemistry, sports, and anything else to John Baker. David Griffin wills his "hell-driving" to Gary Barber. Rheba Self wills her interest in home economics to Annie Mae Rockett. Quote--Maxine Cooper, "I would will a piece of my mind to Jeanne Fleming if I had it to spare--but due to conditions beyond my control, I shall simply wish her lots of luck for I feel sure she can make the A+'s by herself. Mable Bradshaw wills her ability to belong to all of the school clubs and to do a "million and one" things to anyone who can keep up with the "HECTIC" pace.

We hereby appoint Mrs. Faye Russell, our class advisor, as sole executrix of this, our last will and testament.
